north and south poles of the sun. The greater area of brightness is light scattered from the denser regions of the corona, the corona being the envelope visible around the sun at the time of the eclipse. Planet Jupiter is at lower right which is misshapen by time exposure. (UPI)

City Primary Is Set

By D. Kelly Scruton

The City of Sedalia will hold a primary election to select candidates for city offices this spring, by action of the Council Monday night, which passed an ordinance calling for the primary to be held on Tuesday, March 8, 1966. The ordinance also called for the closing date for candidates to file for office to be 5 p. m., Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1966.

The primary ordinance also set out the voting places for the primary, with the First Ward precincts being at 512 West Johnson; Mark Twain School; Convention Hall, Liberty Park; and the County Fire Station. Second Ward, Hubbard High School, Jefferson School, Court House and Washington School; Third Ward, Rest Haven, Smith-Cotton High School Little Theatre, Whittier School and on East Broadway, the address to be announced. Fourth Ward, Cumberland Presbyterian Church, O'Connor Motor Co., Horace Mann School, and Masonic Temple, Broadway and Missouri. The ordinance also calls for the naming of election judges for the primary.

The ordinance sets out there shall be a filing fee of $50 for the candidates seeking nominations. Offices to be filled will be

Paying Rent On Industrial Office Space

City Councilman James Askren, chairman of the council Industrial Development Committee, reported to City Council Monday night that the office of William Hall, executive director of the new Industrial Development Department, has been located in offices in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Although it was not announced on the floor of the council, it was brought out after the meeting the city is to pay the Chamber of Commerce $125 a month rental for the office space.

Elaborating on the rental agreement with the chamber, Askren told The Democrat-Capital Tuesday morning that the $125 monthly fee had been approved by the Industrial Development Department's board of directors at its last meeting. Askren said, however, that the rental fee is not to be charged against the chamber's pledge to contribute $5,000 to the Industrial Development Department budget.

The chamber also is bearing expense of remodeling its offices at 113 East Fourth to accommodate the Industrial Development Department, Askren said.

Hall began his duties here on Dec. 1 and announcement of location of his offices in the Chamber of Commerce was first made on Dec. 10.

Mayor, City Treasurer, City Assessor, and four Councilmen, one from each ward on each ticket. The filing fees after the primary are to be turned over to the political parties.

The Council also passed an ordinance calling for a special election on the Urban Renewal Development, called the Sedalia Renewal by its sponsors, to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 1, 1966. The proposition is for land clearance of blighted areas of the city.

Also set out in the ordinance are four polling places to be used in the election, one in

Suspected Outbreak Of Hog Cholera

Dr. George C. Stiles, state veterinarian, has announced that there is a suspected outbreak of hog cholera in the Ionia area of Benton County.

Hog cholera is a highly infectious and contagious virus disease of swine and can cause a great many deaths in the herd.

Vaccination is the most effective method of avoiding an outbreak of the disease and all swine producers in the Ionia area are urged to have their hogs vaccinated as a precaution.

Anyone who suspects that he might have or knows of an outbreak of hog cholera should telephone his practicing veterinarian or Dr. Stiles, at 636-7166, Jefferson City.

The Missouri Department of Agriculture and the Animal Disease Eradication Division of the United States Department of Agriculture are cooperating in an effort to control and eradicate hog cholera. This goal can be accomplished more rapidly if swine producers will observe the following points for hog cholera eradication.

1. Vaccinate routinely. 2. Follow rules and regulations. 3. Report outbreaks to the state veterinarian. 4. Observe quarantines. 5. Dispose of infected hogs safely and thoroughly. The only acceptable methods are complete incineration, burying at least four feet below the surface or removal by a licensed rendering company. 6. Clean and disinfect all infected premises. 7. Cook all garbage fed to swine, even from the producers' household. 8. Learn the facts about hog cholera.

If more information is desired, contact your local veterinarian; Dr. George C. Stiles, state veterinarian; or Dr. Ralph W. Bennett, district veterinarian, Sedalia.

each of the four wards: First Ward to be at Mark Twain School; Second Ward, Washington School; Third Ward, Whittier School; and Fourth Ward, Horace Mann School. Each voting place will have eight judges of election, four from each of the two major political parties.

The polls in both elections are to be opened at 6 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. Councilman R. N. Snavely, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, reported an application for Fireman Ronald D. Tylar, 23, to become a fireman to replace Roy Gene Vaughn who resigned two weeks ago. Tylar's name was presented to the Council for approval by Mayor L. L. Studer, and he was approved to go to work, Jan. 1. Tylar resides at 228 Gentry.

Vaughn is the son of Fire Chief Emmett Vaughn, and resigned to accept a position in Kansas City.

Snavely asked for approval of a fire hydrant on Thompson Blvd., about 150 feet south of U. S. Highway 50. The request was approved and an ordinance drawn to establish the hydrant.

Councilman James Askren, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee of the Council, reported the office of the Executive Director, William Hall, of the Sedalia Industrial Development Department, has been located in offices in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Askren asked that a street light be located on Henry between Osage and Montebau. The Council approved and ordered an ordinance drawn.

Askren also asked the Council to approve the hiring of a secretary for the industrial officer, and Mayor Studer presented the name of Mrs. Nyra Price, wife of Richen H. Price, 900 Ruth Ann, for the position, at a salary of $250 a month. The Council approved the action.

The name of Fred Leon Paxton, 501 East 24th, was presented by the Council by Mayor Studer for a Class C. Patrolman on the Police Department. The application was approved.

Social Security Tax For Missourians To Go Up $119 Million

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri taxpayers will pay $119 million more in social security taxes next year, the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey reported today.

It said the increase will bring the total social security collections in Missouri to $520 million — more than the total of all state taxes on sales, income, gasoline, cigarettes, liquor, beer, corporate franchises, inheritances and insurance companies.

It will be the 10th social security tax increase in 15 years. For an employee earning $6,600 or more, the total tax will be $277.20, an increase of $103.20 or about 60 per cent. His employer will pay a similar amount.

A self-employed person earning $6,600 or more will pay $405.90 instead of $259.20.

Probe Protest On New Building

Residents in the vicinity of Kay Avenue appeared before City Council Monday night to complain of construction along Griffith Avenue, part of which extends into the R-1 residential area and another portion into the City right-of-way of Griffith Avenue between U. S. Highway 50 and Kay Avenue.

Herbert Taylor, 2501 Kay Avenue, acted as spokesman for the group, and explained the Parkhurst Company has built a building for manufacturing which is 40 inches on the Griffith Avenue right-of-way or City property, and that the firm failed to obtain a building permit until the structure was well on its way toward completion. The building is located on the east side of Griffith Avenue.

Taylor contends the structure violates the Sedalia building code. He also said the building inspector did not have filed with him two copies of the plans prior to or at the time of the issuance of the building permit, as required by City ordinance.

Asked who the building belonged to Taylor said the Parkhurst Manufacturing Co., and according to the code should have been built nine and a half feet from the property line.

City Engineer Robert Cunningham was asked if he knew about this and said he did, but not until after the structure was well on its way to completion. Cunningham also affirmed the statement of Taylor that the Building Permit had not been issued by Building Inspector L. W. Dickman until after the work was well under way. Cunningham also said the property had been surveyed by the County Engineer and stakes indicated it was on City property.

The matter was then referred by Council, on suggestion of Mayor L. L. Studer, to City Engineer Cunningham. City Counselor Earl Crawford and Building Inspector Dickman for investigation.

In early December, 1964, a Democrat-Capital newsman delved through records in the building inspector's office and published this account of irregularities in that office Dec. 8, 1964:

"Many homes were built or altered in the city during the first 11 months of 1964, without plans and specifications being formally filed with the building inspector as required by City Ordinance 4-201.

Without such plans and specifications, the exact amount of revenue the city may have overlooked cannot be determined. But home building and altering were not the only areas of construction and renovation where the city probably has inadvertently lost money.

Some business firms remodeling structures without purchasing a building permit as outlined in the city ordinance. Others built additions without permits.

Without plans, and specifications the building inspector must assume that the information furnished him by the permit applicant is factual.

One entire building is known to have been relocated without a permit and several major renovation projects were carried out without permits.

The ordinance provides that: "Before the erection, construction or alteration of any building or structure or part thereof, and before the erection, construction or alteration of any building, structure or part thereof is commenced, the owner or lessee in connection with the proposed erection or alteration, shall submit to the building inspector, in duplicate, the plans and specifications of such proposed work and such structural drawings of said proposed work as the building inspector may require, all of which shall be a statement in writing, giving the full name and address, street and number of the owner. . ."

Air War On North Viet Nam Carried Closer to Big Port

Second Blast At Power Station Near Uong Bi

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. planes brought the air war on North Viet Nam closer to Haiphong in the past 24 hours. A spokesman said they unleashed their bombs and rockets only 12 miles from the country's major port and paid a return call on the Uong Bi power station, which supplies electricity to Haiphong and Hanoi.

The Communists sent up several missiles against the U.S. Air Force and Navy planes but they missed their mark, the spokesman said. The American pilots spotted some MIG17s over North Viet Nam, but the communist jets did not attack the faster U.S. planes.

FBI Nabs Biggest Haul Of Heroin

209-Pound Cache Of Uncut Heroin Found; Roundup 7

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Federal agents nabbed what they described as "the largest single seizure of heroin ever made in the United States" and then quickly rounded up seven persons on charges of conspiring to import the narcotic.

The agents confiscated the record 209-pound cache of uncut heroin Monday at the trailer court home of CWO Herman Condon, 35, a 15-year Army man. He was charged with smuggling the narcotic into this country when he was transferred to nearby Ft. Benning from Orleans, France.

Federal men then arrested Frankie Dio, a Miami, Fla., nightclub operator, and five aliens. Commissioner Henry L. Giordano of the U.S. Narcotics Bureau in Washington said the arrests "were all tied together."

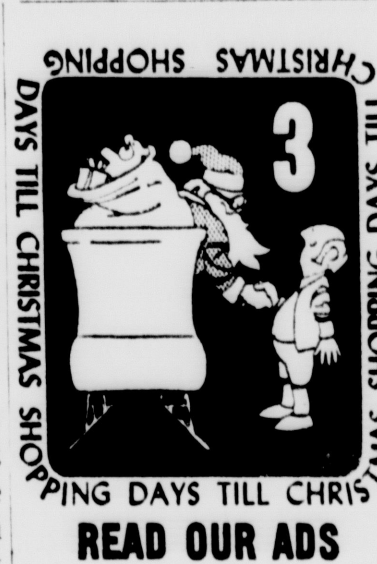

Dio, brother of the New York underworld figure Johnny Dio, was held in Miami on a charge of violation of federal narcotics laws. He faces arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Edward Swann.

In New York, U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said four French nationals and a Brazilian were arrested in connection with the shipment, which he said was worth $100 million on the underworld market.

However, Giordano put a $18.5-million value on the uncut heroin which is cut, usually with milk sugar, eight to ten times by everyone whose hands it passes through until an addict pays $5 for a bag containing only one to two grains of heroin.

Morgenthau said the Army unwittingly shipped the illicit drug into this country in a home freezer among Condon's household goods.

Strike Threat Fading

Workers Drifting Back to Jobs In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) —The threat of a general strike to force out Dominican military leaders appeared fading today as workers began drifting back to their jobs.

Labor leaders Monday night urged workers to return while President Hector Garcia-Godoy completes an investigation of the battle of Santiago Sunday between the army and rebels.

The labor leaders had promised Garcia-Godoy they would abide by his request not to launch a general strike in support of the rebels until a special commission completes an investigation of the Santiago fighting.

Banks and many private firms that were shut down Monday reopened.

Snipers fired at U.S. and Brazilian troops of the Inter-American Peace Force Monday, but a U.S. spokesman said no American soldiers were hit.

The Brazilian and U.S. troops were reinforced in the heart of the city Sunday after the battle in Santiago, 120 miles away. The peace force dispersed some of the bands of youths trying to stir up demonstrations in the business district Monday, and the reinforcements were later withdrawn, leaving one U.S. and one Brazilian company in the downtown section.

The strike appeared aimed at forcing out military chiefs blamed by labor leaders for the bloody outbreak in Santiago Sunday.

Estimates of the dead in the clash in the country's second largest city ranged from 9 to 13. One of the victims was Col. Juan Maria Lora Fernandez, former chief of staff of the rebel forces.

Cold Grip Extends To Florida Tip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Upper New York State and northern New England were in the tight grip of subzero cold today, just hours before the official arrival of winter.

Boonville, N.Y., which had -14 Monday, recorded 13 below zero today.

Cold air settled over a shower-covered Florida where pre-dawn temperatures dropped into the 40s as far as the southern tip of the state. Readings in the 30s were common in the northern half of Florida.

Temperatures in the 30s were reported over a large area from the Appalachians to the Rockies.

Freezing weather dipped into areas in the Southeast, with near freezing in parts of the Gulf states. It also was a little chilly in sections of the Southwest desert region.

The coldest weather, below zero and near zero, was in northern New York State, northern New England and in parts of the Great Basin region in the Far West. The mercury dropped to 25 below zero Monday at Wanakena, N.Y., in Adirondacks.

The snow covering across most of the nation was reported generally light. Heaviest amounts, up to 36 inches, were in the western Adirondack foothills in New York State and in mountain areas in the West.

In the Midwest, snow measured 19 inches at Houghton, Mich., in the extreme northern Upper Peninsula. Amounts in other parts of the Midwest were generally light.

Snow fell during the night and early morning across broad areas (Please turn to Page 12, Col. 3)

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you will be more sympathetic to our problem than our friends have been. We have mentioned this to a few people and they broke up. We don't think it is funny.

I will come straight to the point and tell you that our poodle, Sir Oliver, is an involuntary drop-out of canine school.

We paid $150 for him and he came to us with the finest registration papers. For some mysterious reason, Sir Oliver cannot be housebroken, nor will he learn to take any other directions.

The head of the canine school has told us that he believes the dog has a neurological problem and it is useless to invest any more money to train him.

My husband says he does not want a dog around that is not housebroken. I have become so attached to Sir Oliver that I hate to think of giving him to a farmer as my husband suggests. Do you think there is a chance that if I worked diligently with Sir Oliver I can teach him some manners?—DISCOURAGED.

Dear Discouraged: The head of the canine school is a better authority on this than I am. If he says your poodle has a little strudel in his noodle, I think you should take his word for it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has become friendly with a woman who works in a nearby office. He raved about what a swell "guy" Mabel is and insisted that we invite her and her husband to dinner.

I finally agreed. That was last spring. Mabel doesn't look like a guy to me. She looks plenty female. Her husband is a dumb cluck.

Recently Mabel had to be hospitalized for an old back injury. My husband and I went to see her twice. The third time I told him if HE wanted to go, O.K. but not to ask me to spend my evenings like that. He has continued to visit her, and he always takes one of our sons along.

Mabel is young enough to be my husband's daughter and I honestly believe he feels fatherly toward her. Also, we have a family of boys and he has always wanted a daughter.

Please don't tell me to wake up and smell the coffee as I have read that phrase in your column six times this year. I need something more definite to go on. Do you think there's some hanky-panky going on or not?—UNCERTAIN.

Dear Uncertain: A man who's interested in hanky-panky doesn't take his wife and sons along. Don't make any accusations or you may build a problem where none exists.

Dear Ann Landers: There is a certain boy I will call Pete. He is in my home room class. We are both high school sophomores. He called me for a date in October and I went out with him. Ann, it was like agony. He was so boring I felt worn out trying to think of things to say. When I got home I wrote in my diary, "Never again with this Pete has asked me out almost every weekend since and I've run out of excuses. Would it be terrible to tell him that I'm not going with him again and to stop calling? I need your help, Annie.

Ho Wants Surrender

Little Hope for a Break In Shooting In Viet Nam

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

If Ho Chi Minh's pronouncements to interviewers represent an unalterable North Vietnamese stand, there seems little hope at this time of a breakthrough which might stop the shooting in Viet Nam.

Taken at face value, the Communist president's words would mean it will be a long, long war unless the Americans withdraw from South Viet Nam with their mission unaccomplished, or unless the Americans find some means of changing the North Vietnamese mind. Hanoi's stand would appear to leave the United States no alternative but continued waging, and perhaps escalation, of the conflict, if it is to meet its proclaimed objectives.

How much of what Ho says is for possible bargaining purposes? How much of it is required by the pressures from Red China? Ho says nobody, including Hanoi, wants the war to go on, but his words would seem to indicate there is no way out but total U.S. surrender. The U.S. State Department now reports new feelers from Hanoi, and while there have been feelers before, each one raises a new glimmer of hope.

Felix Greene, a free-lance British journalist, was the most recent Ho Chi Minh interviewer. Ho's responses to him were much the same as those to others, including a Frenchman and a Uruguayan Communist.

It added up to a dismal picture. Victory, to Ho, evidently means abrupt withdrawal of the U.S. presence and recognition that the Communists have the right eventually to rule all Viet Nam. This is clear from Ho's answer to a question regarding President Johnson's offer of unconditional talks.

Ho replied that acceptance of the offer would mean the Americans would "refuse to recognize" the Viet Cong's Front for National Liberation as "the sole genuine representative of the people of Viet Nam." Moreover, he contended Viet Nam was not poor guy. Be sweet and tell him you know a couple of girls who are NOT dated up, and then give him the names of a few not-so popular dames who might enjoy Pete's company.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

two countries, but one. There can hardly be any other interpretation except that the Communists claim the right to dominate both North and South.

Ho told Greene the "Vietnamese people" want this, but he—like Communists the world over—apparently reserves the right to define the term "people."

Similarly, Greene quoted Ho as professing to believe the great majority of the American people cannot support President Johnson's policies. As evidence Ho points to antiwar and anti-draft demonstrations.

Every available public opinion poll shows that a U.S. majority supports the Johnson policy and that the protesters are a minority. But Ho's words seem new evidence that the demonstrations helped shore up Communist confidence in victory.

"Uncle Ho," astute and legendary revolutionary though he may be, likely believes this. The notion seems epidemic among the world's devout Communists, who are inclined to believe what fits their own notions.

By Communist reckoning, a country such as the United States has two elements: the ruling circles and the people. The people are subdivided into "progressive" and "reactionary." The former are those in non-Communist nations who sympathize with communism, and the latter those who support their own government.

Ho told Greene he believed President Johnson wanted neither peace nor negotiations, and suggested the offer of talks was a ruse to cover up intended aggression. The Chinese constantly refer to what they call "Johnson's peace talk hoax."

Greene asked whether Peking pressure might be keeping Hanoi from a conference table. The reply was not really an answer, but seemed more a diversionary lecture. Ho replied that he valued Chinese aid, and that U.S. attempts to divide Viet Nam and China are doomed. Then he said the question showed that many in the West failed to understand "relations among Socialist countries."

Thus, he did not specifically deny Red Chinese pressure. The weight of available evidence is that Peking's pressure against peace talks has been strong.

Once again, Ho repeated the terms of preconditions for peace talks: an end to air attacks on the North, withdrawal of U.S. forces from the South and permission to "the Vietnamese people to settle their own affairs."

If the Viet Cong's front sat in as, to quote Ho, "the sole genuine representative of the people of South Viet Nam," this would seem to amount to the Communists of the South negotiating with the Communists of the North on South Viet Nam's fate.

Bombing can be stopped any time. The key to peace is in the other conditions. If negotiations could be started short of U.S. withdrawal and leaving South Viet Nam utterly helpless, there would be some reason to hope.

Christmas Eve In Suburb With Story From Gramps

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—It was Christmas eve in the suburbs. "Tell us a story, Gramps," asked one of the little tots.

"Now, I told you one last night," said Gramps. "Get your grandmother to tell you one."

"Okay," said one of the tots.

"Grandma, you tell us a story," said Gramps.

"Well, all right," said Grandma. "Would you like to hear an old-fashioned Christmas story?"

"Oh, yes. Goody goody!"

"Well, I'll tell you how they used to celebrate at the office in the old days before your grandfather retired," said Grandma.

"Somebody put gin in the water cooler early in the morning of Christmas Eve, but the party usually didn't get going until they all came back after a three-hour lunch."

"Then, I'll tell you, it sometimes got quite lively."

"The men gathered around the office Christmas tree and sang carols. Then they sang old war songs, and started drinking out of bottles."

"After that, somebody hunted up a bit of mistletoe, and then all the office wolves began chasing all the pretty girls around the room."

"How did wolves get invited to the party, Grandma?" asked one of the tots.

"Oh, all the offices had wolves in those days, didn't they?" replied Grandma, looking at Grandpa. Grandpa cleared his throat and looked the other way.

"By quitting time," continued Grandma, "nobody wanted to leave. Some men were leaning out the window whistling at girls on the street below. Others were telling the boss to go fly a kite. And still others were leaping from desk to desk like goats."

"Didn't they ever fall and hurt themselves?" inquired one of the tots.

"Well, your Grandpa fell one year and didn't get off his crutches until Easter."

"That's not true!" broke in Grandpa. "I marched in the St. Pat's Day parade that year."

"In any case," resumed Grandma, "many of the men didn't get home until after Santa Claus had come and gone. I remember one year when you didn't arrive until 3 a.m., and then you attacked our Christmas tree. You thought it was a mugger."

"When I came downstairs you had it on the floor and were trying to choke it. Remember?"

Business Analysis

This Year People Spend More Money Than Before

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Where is all that money coming from for all that Christmas shopping? People are crowding the stores and buying higher-priced items and spending more than ever before.

A lot of it may be going on the cuff to be paid for later. But this year people have more money in their pockets and bank accounts than ever before.

And they are parting with it, some because their own personal finances are healthier, some because they believe the war in Viet Nam will set off a boom like the Korean War did, some because they think goods are going to be higher priced in the future and better be bought now.

Back of all this feeling of well being are such things as record personal incomes, more jobs at higher pay, and orders pouring into the factories which seem to guarantee that prosperity will be around for awhile.

Personal income has made a big gain this fall. In November it was running at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $545.6

billion. All signs point to a further advance this month. That's a lot of money to spend.

Wages and salaries account for $370 billion of it, up $3.1 billion from October. Of the November advance, factory payrolls account for a gain of $1.4 billion to $120.2 billion.

Much of the buying of high-priced goods in the stores today may be traced to the big gains this year in cash dividend payments on stocks. Merchants say sales of luxury goods often follow the ups and downs of the dividend rates.

This year dividends are running 10 per cent above a year ago, for a total so far of $15.6 billion. This month is seeing a flood of extras or year-end payments. They are expected to push the total well above $16 billion.

Store buying is likely to reflect guesses on how families will fare next year as well as how they are making out currently.

Many signs point to a further advance in the general economy. Many of these indicators are too esoteric for most families to pay much attention to.

But here are some down to earth ones:

Factory workers take cheer that the backlog of factory orders for durable goods has risen to $61.3 billion. Most industry groups reported moderate increases in November. For many workers that statistic can be translated into steady jobs for some weeks or months to come.

Those in the construction trades also have good news as Christmas draws near. Prospects for more contracts and more work next year are brightening. Corporations are planning to spend more next year on building new plants or expanding old ones.

And the fairly sluggish housing construction business is having a year-end pickup. Housing starts in November ran 9 per cent ahead of October to reach a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,534,000 units, the highest it's been since June.

Home builders hail the gain as the healthiest in a long time.

Getting Out of Hospital In Time for the Holidays

By ROBERT HOLTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Stephanie Smith goes home for Christmas today, "utterly flabbergasted" at the outpouring of good-will letters touched off by news stories of her seven-year battle against death.

"I'm getting out of the hospital in time for the holidays," said the pretty 22-year-old blonde, "just as I knew I would."

"But I never counted on this — the greatest Christmas present in all the world."

Hundreds of strangers at home and abroad wrote the victim of a rare blood disease at the Hospital of the Rockefeller University here. American servicemen wrote from overseas stations.

"It gives you a funny feeling, a real warm feeling," Miss Smith said in her hospital room Monday night.

"You somehow get to thinking that people today are just too taken up with themselves to worry about anyone else, much less care about a total stranger. Then along come all these beautiful letters and you see just how wrong you were."

"People do care."

Stricken at 15, Miss Smith has been in and out of hospitals 26 times, received the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church six times and was on the critical list "at least a dozen other times."

The blood disease, lupus erythematosus, once was considered progressively fatal but now is controllable with proper medicines.

"Any courage and determination I have I owe to my mother and I'm going to be home with her and Dad for the Christmas holidays," Miss Smith told The Associated Press 12 days ago.

"You can count on that."

About half the letters came from victims of the disease or relatives of victims.

"So many of them said they never knew of anyone else suffering with the disease," Miss Smith said. "And they said it gave them added hope and encouragement to know that they are not alone — to know that there are others who have the disease but are fighting it all down the line."

"This morning I woke up feeling very sorry for myself," wrote Bob Hacker, serving in West Germany with Company D of the Army's 9th Engineer Battalion.

"I had been thinking about home and Christmas and feeling blue because I couldn't be home with my family for the holiday season."

"I proceeded to read an article written about you and after I had finished, I felt very stupid and foolish. I thought to myself how very lucky I was to have my health and be able to do my part for my country."

"I would like to express my sincere admiration and respect for your determination and courage."

Miss Smith had summed up her success against the disease: "I guess I'm just too stubborn to die."

"Dear Stephanie: Pray for me. I am stubborn too," wrote Dolores Touzet, of New Orleans, La., on a Christmas card.

One Illinois man who said he was 74, sent a Christmas card and a dollar bill. He said it was all he could afford.

Mrs. Arthur Slawski, of Baltimore, Md., wrote that she too suffers with the disease.

"But I have fooled them and go have you," she wrote. "I will keep praying for you and please say a prayer for me."

Miss Smith, sufficiently recovered from her latest siege her family's Manhattan apartment which began during the summer with her mother, father and a sister, Antonia, 25.

mer, will spend the holidays in and a sister, Antonia, 25.

To Observe Lady Bird's Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson family pauses Wednesday in the midst of Christmas preparations to observe the First Lady's 53rd birthday.

Born Claudia Alta Taylor on Dec. 22, 1912, in the little town of Karnack in East Texas, she never uses the formal name her parents gave her. She's known now throughout the world by the name of Lady Bird, given her by a childhood nursemaid.

There's no formal party planned for Mrs. Johnson. As usual, the family will give her personal gifts, not usually disclosed to the public.

At 53, Mrs. Johnson is 5 feet 4, and still maintains a trim size 10 figure.

As First Lady, she presides at numerous White House social events and now devotes considerable time to the beautifying of the nation's capital and a campaign to make American more beautiful.

Last month, President and Mrs. Johnson observed their 31st wedding anniversary. The date — Nov. 17 — coincided with a formal White House dinner for Britain's visiting Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon. President Johnson, in a champagne after-dinner toast, proclaimed he was married to "the most wonderful woman in the world."

Their partnership in marriage and in politics is well-known. The President frequently tells how his wife loaned him money to get started in politics, campaigns for him, and backs him at every turn.

In the President's most recent personal crisis — his gall bladder operation — Mrs. Johnson moved into the hospital.

Johnson's recuperation period at the LBJ Ranch in Texas gave his wife her first long rest and respite from public duties this year.

Until then, she had traveled almost 14,000 miles and made 33 speeches in behalf of beautification projects and some antipov-erty causes.

Her press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said Mrs. Johnson reported the two months at the ranch had given her "a wonderful respite with her family — to walk, think, talk with her husband, and to read."

British Airlifting Oil For Zambians

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Britain began an oil airlift to Zambia Sunday as leaders of Kenya, Ethiopia and Uganda called for another African summit meeting to agree on action toward Rhodesia.

The airlift began with the landing of a Royal Air Force Britannia bringing 2,370 gallons of diesel fuel from Dar Es Salaam in neighboring Tanzania.

On hand at the airport at Lusaka were President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia and British Commonwealth Minister Cledwyn Hughes.

The airlift began after the white minority government of Rhodesia cut off the flow of oil to landlocked Zambia.

The Rhodesian action was in retaliation for the oil embargo Britain imposed against Rhodesia last Friday to tighten the economic vise on the government of Prime Minister Ian Smith. He declared Rhodesia independent Nov. 11 after refusing to yield to British demands for steps toward eventual African majority rule.

Sees Lunar Landing During This Decade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the U.S. man-in-space program thinks Americans may land on the moon before the decade ends.

Said Dr. George E. Mueller: "We should be able to carry out the lunar landing before the end of 1969... if all goes well."

Mueller, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, made his prediction in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report.

The Hidden Years

Family of Jesus Leaves
Unstable Trail In AfricaBy GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

For the wanderer, nothing is fixed, nothing steady. There are no comforting landmarks, no regular reminders, no settled frame of reference. Without a familiar place, no step is sure.

As refugees from mass slaughter, a displaced Jewish family of old walked that vagrant route in Egypt. It was a foreshadowing lot for the couple, the child, and ensuing generations.

This was the chancy, insecure environment in which Jesus entered, and experienced, the world — starting as a ragged toddler in the arms of a nomadic family in flight from despotism and carnage.

The months, probably more than a year, in Egypt make up a nebulous interlude, a veiled segment of His upbringing.

That is the kind of indistinct, unstable trail left by the fugitive family of Jesus in North Africa, continually moving from one uncertain spot to another, with strangeness all about, and no roof or ground to call their own.

Although Scripture tells hardly anything about that episode, other accounts going far back into antiquity indicate some of its features.

Over the road they followed, it is about 250 miles from Bethlehem to the Nile Valley, going through Hebron and the pagan port of Gaza, teeming with sailors, scent-sellers and slave trade, and thence on across the desert of the Sinai Peninsula.

They had a donkey and took turns riding it, holding the infant. At one point, legend says, the girl broke, dropping riders into the dust.

A broiling sun beat on them by day, a piercing chill at night. They nibbled from a sack of corn and dried bread, rationing the contents of their waterskin from oasis to oasis.

They went through Goshen and came eventually to the delta, that riversilted "black land" of Upper Egypt, hemmed in by the red rolling sands of desert, a region of inundation and drought, of fertility and famine.

As a woodworker, Joseph had trouble finding work, since in that almost treeless, rainless land, firm wood is scarce. Besides that particular handicap, there were everywhere more workers than work — the numbingly featureless.

But it is said he eventually got employment for a time building coffins for a burying ground at Deir el Muharrak.

According to stories circulated in that ancient land for nearly 2,000 years, the family moved about a great deal, to various towns, living sometimes alone, sometimes with others, in hovels and mansions, once with a kindly widow, once with a wealthy benefactor named Eleazar.

The scene about them was the once powerful kingdom of the pharaohs, which by then had become a vassal province of Rome, following Cleopatra's loss of her throne and suicide about 27 years earlier after Antony's defeat at Actium.

But the atmosphere remained Egyptian — the animal idols, the elaborate processions for "sacred bulls", the incantations, clattering chariots, magicians, oracles, the corps of perumed temple women.

But it also was a time of intellectual richness at Alexandria, the Roman-built coastal city, where the great Jewish philosopher, Philo, was developing his teachings about the "logos" — the divine intermediary among men, revealing God.

That concept ultimately would be applied to the then ignored unknown child-in-exile, Jesus. Writes St. John: "And the word (logos) became flesh and dwelt among us."

SEDALIA OPTIMIST CLUB

In those environs, Jesus grew active. His wobbly legs gaining strength and balance. An ancient Coptic tale offers this description of Him and His mother:

"She used to take hold of his hand and lead him along the roads, saying, 'My sweet son, walk a little ways'. He stopped from time to time, hanging on the skirts of Mary, his mother. He would lift up his eyes to her face, and she would catch him up to herself and lift him up in her arms, and walk along with him."

Other ancient stories picture Him fishing in an oasis, laughing at some quarreling sparrows. His mother walking through the city marketplace, the family sailing the Nile in a tall-masted boat, a falluka.

Accounts vary on how long the family stayed there, a year, three years, five years, but there are scenes of summer and winter, of tranquility and darkening dust storms. Some stories say Jesus was 7 before leaving Egypt; the prevailing evidence is that he was past 3.

In any case, Joseph learned that Herod the Great, the tyrant who sought to kill the boy, was dead. Joseph took his family and started back toward Israel, again crossing that wilderness where Moses, leading the Exodus from Egyptian bondage, had passed through darkness, cloud and fog to meet God and His Commandments.

Through similar obscuring mists came His further revela-

First Voter Intimidation Case Filed

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The nation's first voter intimidation suit filed under the 1965 Voting Rights Act accuses a Louisiana registrar and seven landowners of forcing Negro sharecroppers from their life-long homes.

Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion said he will not defend the registrar, Fletcher Harvey, named in the federal court suit Monday.

"I'm not responsible for the predicament that he is in," said Gremillion. "He caused it of his own accord."

When told of his state's legal attitude, Harvey replied, "I don't want to know what he says."

Harvey, six landowners and one farming company were charged with forcing from their homes Negro tenant farmers who registered to vote.

U.S. Dist. Judge E. Gordon West has scheduled a hearing on the matter in Baton Rouge on Thursday.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the case was the first voter intimidation suit under the 1965 Voting Rights Act. His department seeks a court order to ban interference with Negroes seeking to vote in the parish.

Named defendants, in addition to Harvey, were Edward I. Daniel, Jordon Truitt, John Spillman, R. Harry Daniel Sr., R. Harry Daniel Jr., B. Harrison Barrow and Daniel & Truitt, Inc., a farming firm.

The defendants refused to comment or were unavailable for questions.

Earlier Monday, Katzenbach designated four more Mississippi counties — Carroll, Newton, Simpson and Warren — for federal examiners, bringing to 36 the total so designated under the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

Katzenbach said registrars would go to the four Mississippi counties immediately after the first of the year because local registrars have continued to use literacy as a voting qualification.

The state of South Carolina filed a brief with the U.S. Supreme Court explaining in detail its contention that the Voting Rights Act is unconstitutional.

Briefs as friends of the court also were filed by Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi, Virginia and Alabama, contending the voting rights legislation exceeds congressional authority.

Another friend-of-the-court brief filed in Illinois supported constitutionality of the act.

In Louisiana, the complaints said Negroes who registered in West Feliciana Parish have been subjected to a variety of economic penalties — usually the termination of long-standing sharecropping agreements — since October.

None of the 2,700 eligible Negroes was registered to vote in the parish by the end of 1963.

Seek Quarantine

GOP Would Back All Peace Feelers From North Viets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said today the United States must pursue diligently any Viet Nam peace feelers — no matter how tenuous they may appear.

"The alternative to negotiations may be a long war, costly in lives and national resources," Aiken said in an interview. He is the senior Republican in the Senate and a member of the Foreign Relations Committee.

While the Vermont senator was emphasizing the need to pursue peace feelers, a leading House Republican, Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, praised the Johnson administration for stepping up bombing in Viet Nam and urged greater use of U.S. seapower in the Viet Nam war.

"They've decided to escalate the war on the ground," he said in an interview. We think greater consideration should be given to a Kennedy-type quarantine, which we think will bring about the national goal of unconditional discussions with the North Vietnamese."

The Wisconsin congressman referred to the type of tight naval blockade President John F. Kennedy set up around Cuba during the missile crisis of 1962. Other Republican leaders have spoken in favor of such a technique in Viet Nam.

Laird said President Johnson has clearly set a goal of unconditional discussions.

"The question is how best to bring about this goal," Laird said. "Couldn't you do it and cut casualties by means of a Kennedy-type quarantine? Ninety per cent of their war materiel is coming in by sea."

Increasing ground power would be moving into the area where the Viet Cong is strongest, Laird said. "Why not operate in areas where we have superiority? We believe a Kennedy-type quarantine would bring a settlement much faster than sending in 150,000 more troops."

Aiken expressed disappointment and nearly all of its 1,400 eligible whites were registered, the Justice Department said.

New Network Program For Housewives

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co.'s yuletide gift to the housewives of the nation seems to have been two new daytime audience participation games. They arrived Monday, about as welcome as ment that a conditional peace offer by North Viet Nam — later repudiated by Hanoi — had been made public by the State Department.

The Vermont senator said this feeler had been reported to a delegation of senators, headed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, during the course of a world fact-finding trip they completed Saturday night.

"We had our fingers crossed," he said. "We didn't think it was true. But the fact is that offers to negotiate must come in some such lower level because they can't come from the top."

"No matter how tenuous it seems, we ought to pursue every peace feeler diligently," he added.

A reputed offer by President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam to go anywhere and talk to anyone about possible peace was relayed through two Italians who visited him in Hanoi. It was made public last Friday by the State Department after published reports said such an offer had been rejected.

Hanoi called the reported offer a fraud but admitted that Ho had conferred with the two Italians.

a box of hand-painted souvenir neckties.
First, there was something called "Supermarket Sweepstakes," in which husbands, brothers-in-law and other sneaker-clad representatives of lucky housewives raced through a supermarket loading into shopping carts as much merchandise as they could grab within an allotted time period.

One person succeeded in grabbing almost $300 worth. The smart ones, who looked as though they had inspected the store in advance, concentrated on hams, turkeys, steak and rock lobsters.

The show seems to be aimed for the same old area once occupied by the big-money quiz shows. It seemed a shoddy way to fill a half-hour.

The next ABC show seemed, perhaps by contrast, to make better sense. "Dating Game," had three eligible bachelors concealed from a young woman who, by questioning, had to decide which one she wanted to date.

One spinster had her choice of three fairly well-known performers who, judging from their self-conscious manners, had come aboard reluctantly and only for the publicity value.

Art Linkletter and his adaptation of the old "Talent Scout" program may not be the newest idea to hit television recently, but as demonstrated last summer and again Monday night, when it returned to CBS, it has quite a number of pleasant things going for it.

There is the talent, with faces new to viewers accustomed to seeing the same performers tell the same jokes and singing the same songs on show after show. The mixture of the big-name stars as introducers adds zest to the hour. Host Linkletter handled things competently and easily.

K.E. GRENSHAW
PRESIDENT

December 21, 1965

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the employees of Cities Service Gas Company it is my pleasure to extend to you and yours the best wishes of the season. In so doing, I would like to point out that there is a new decoration on top of our Christmas tree this year---our new Company emblem.

Of course it is a happy coincidence that the new emblem embodies two familiar Christmas colors, blue and green. Both the clean blue flame of natural gas and the well-known green Cities Service triangle signify dependability, service and progress and---in this case---the traditional spirit of Christmas as well.

The joy and love of Christmas have brought happiness to the hearts of mankind for centuries. The people of Cities Service Gas Company are proud to contribute to your festivities, comfort and convenience at home, by providing a dependable supply of natural gas to distributing companies serving a five-state area.

May the spirit and blessings of this happy season endure for you throughout the coming year.

Sincerely,
K.E. Grenshaw

Greetings from Father Frost

Santa has become Father Frost and New Year's is the day for gifts, but even in the officially atheist Soviet Union the spirit of Christmas still runs strong. And childish delight in the wonderland of toys is still very much a part of it. Here, three lads are engrossed by military toys at a Moscow display which include a battery-operated rocket launcher, right.

For the Soviet girl, dolls come in many forms and realistic settings. A high diver prepares for a plunge into a pool before an admiring audience.

There are also the traditional peasant dolls, dressed in the colorful costumes of the Soviet Union's many regions and nationalities.

And borrowing from the West, lifelike dolls. Here, a lot experiments with feeding a "baby" almost as big as he is.

Erhard, LBJ Talk

Wants No Atomic Weapons, Just a Say In Their Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Germany has publicly stated it seeks no nuclear weapons of its own, and wants at this time only a bigger say in their possible European use.

A West German spokesman announced the position Monday after Chancellor Ludwig Erhard conferred with President Johnson. The two leaders wind up two days of talks today.

Said State Secretary Karl-Guenther von Hase: "Germany, the chancellor stressed, is not interested in national ownership, but asks for closer co-determination and for continued consultation."

Johnson and Erhard met in closed session with only interpreters present, and their spokesmen gave few details of the conversation.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said only that they talked about "nuclear policy and the President's efforts to assess the present German position."

There was neither confirmation nor denial of reports that the Germans favor an Atlantic nuclear force under which European nations would share ownership of a 10-submarine fleet armed with Polaris missiles. The submarines would be under command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The ANF is Britain's alternative to the U.S. proposal for a multilateral force — MLF — which would involve NATO control of surface vessels armed with missiles and manned by sailors from NATO countries.

Britain has objected to the mixed manning as unworkable. Its plan would fit in with the Labor government's pre-election pledge to abolish what Prime Minister Harold Wilson once called his nation's "so-called independent, so-called deterrent" — the expensive-to-maintain submarines.

The Erhard-Johnson meeting also triggered talk of cooperation in other areas. These were made publicly at a state dinner.

Both came from Johnson in his formal toast.

He proposed that the two nations join in "exploration of space," perhaps "a probe to the sun, and another, a probe to Jupiter."

Johnson said this was an "ambitious plan to permit us to do together what we cannot do so well alone."

The President also announced he will send a mission headed by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to West Germany next month. Its goal will be to study the German anti-pollution program which, Johnson said, is one of the most effective in the world.

In his toast, Johnson also said

"the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom is a major goal," and he related U.S. support in Viet Nam to Europe.

"If it is not good in Viet Nam, who can trust it in the heart of Europe?" he asked, then answered: "But America's word is good in Viet Nam, as it is good in Berlin."

The President said the United States will push on every door for peace in Viet Nam, "but it takes two to talk and it takes two, as well, to stop the fighting."

Pershing College Has New President

BEATRICE, Neb. (AP) — Dr. Virgil B. McCain Jr., 54, president of Athens (Ala.) College, has been named president of the new Pershing College here. The four-year liberal arts school is scheduled to open to its first freshman class next fall.

The Erhard toast also included a reference to Viet Nam.

He said the United States is making great sacrifices to preserve freedom in Viet Nam, and "I feel ashamed because what we can contribute is very modest compared to what you do."

Plan 4 Launchings

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force plans to launch four satellites into orbit with the Titan 3 military space rocket today.

Liftoff time of America's most powerful rocket is set for 9 a.m. (EST).

Two satellites will test techniques for a future network of military communications satellites. One will measure solar activity and the fourth will be used by amateur radio operators around the globe.

Carols Were Folk Songs Originally

LONDON (AP) — Take a recording of "Good King Wenceslas" made at 33 1/3 revolutions per minute, play it at 78 rpm's and enjoy a good twist.

That's just about the way it should sound, according to Miss Elizabeth Poston, a British composer and expert on medieval music.

Miss Poston has strong views on the things that have happened to carols on their way down the centuries. Especially "Wenceslas."

Carols, according to Miss Poston, were originally intended for dancing. They were folk songs and not necessarily religious.

The medieval clergy decided that dancing in church would not do. So carols went underground. They survived precariously for hundreds of years in remote villages.

Then under Victorian revivalists, carols came back — with a whimper. They took the tunes, wrote their own words and loaded down the result with church harmonies.

This is what happened to "Wenceslas." The tune, once a splendidly gay and virile dance measure, dates from the 13th century, Miss Poston says.

The words were written in 1853 by Dr. John Mason Neale. Miss Poston, in a foreword to the "Penguin Book of Christmas Carols," describes his grafting operation as "the dreariest of travesties."

She says that "Wenceslas" should be sung, in unison, nearly twice as fast as most people do these days, "with clapping, drum and plucked instruments" — which sounds like a beat group backing.

"Danced as a twist with modern rhythm accompaniment it would be nearer its authentic style," Miss Poston writes.

She prints her version in the book, minus harmonies but with indications for drum taps and drone bass, plus several other unconventional arrangements.

Astronauts Continue Review of Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. continue today an extensive review with the experts of their 14-day space flight.

The schedule includes more medical checks, a review of experiments conducted and a discussion of the rendezvous with Gemini 6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford.

Borman and Lovell plan to fly Wednesday to their homes in Houston, Tex., for Christmas with their families.

Technical Reason For The Frug

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A Columbia University faculty member suggests that man's loss of a sense of separateness might have led to the development of such dances as the frug.

In the frug, Gerald Sykes theorized, the emphasis is not on sex, which implies participation with someone else, but on the ego.

You do the frug by yourself, perhaps as a defiant gesture of independence in an increasingly homogenized world, said Sykes, head of Columbia's liberal arts program.

He was one of a number of the world's top philosophers and scholars at a symposium on the technological society at the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions Monday.

To further the point, the Rev. Myron Bloy, Protestant Episcopal chaplain of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, contended that reaction against the increase of technology and mechanization is a likely basis for student unrest on U.S. campuses.

He said such unrest could be an outgrowth of students' insistence upon more personal involvement in areas where they can still exert individual influence.

Philosophy Professor Nathan Rotenstreich of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, disputed Bloy's view, saying he felt many students "acted out of a desire for instantaneous significance."

Sykes took sharp exception to Rotenstreich, saying that "youth is upset because it is not getting much of a world. They feel themselves being speeded up by technology, losing the time they need for a good education."

The symposium speakers concluded mankind's intellectual accomplishments have reached the moon, but mankind's values remain earthbound.

The failure of society to create values to match man's intellectual giant steps in science, several speakers suggested, dates from the last 100 years or so, since man has learned to provide for his needs and then devote time to fulfilling his wants.

Astronauts' Happy Return Seen On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's really exciting show the past weekend was the second of its two-part drama on the recovery of the record-breaking astronauts, complete with happy ending.

The Saturday morning live coverage from the carrier Wasp was as expert and satisfying as it had been two days before. It would have been even more thrilling if we had been able to see the astronauts as they actually emerged from the capsule, but their eagerness to get out as soon as possible was easy to understand.

Viewers eventually will become accustomed to front-row seats on history as it happens. But right now when it is new and stimulating, the effect is to make television's usual action-adventure series seem even more contrived and trite than usual.

Thus it was a long, long drive from Saturday morning's return of the space travelers to Sunday night's "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea." The latter seemed like a comedy-satire.

The colorful special effects of the ABC series are marvelous, particularly the scenes inside that very convincing submarine of the future. But the story lines often leave something to be desired.

CBS' "20th Century" Sunday night had a fascinating film account of a real life adventure in rescuing wild animals stranded and starving in flooded jungle areas of Surinam, South America.

Star of the too-short half-hour was a bearded young American named John Walsh, working for the International Society for the Protection of Wild Animals and aided by a native crew and assorted boats, he rounded up all types of animals in distress, from slow-moving sloths to a frightened, struggling deer.

Books Ideal Presents For Yule Giving

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Having trouble finding the right Christmas present for a friend?

Why not give him a book?

Even if he already has a book, you can give him another. Whether your friend reads the book is unimportant. Books have other than educational uses. They are great for curing insomnia, throwing at the cat and come in handy when you need to stand on something to reach a high shelf.

The next problem is what book to select. Naturally, that depends upon what kind of friend you are buying a present for. If he flunked out of Harvard, get him a book printed in large type and full of pictures. If he graduated from Yale get him one that has a portrait of a bosomy girl on the cover.

In general, however, the main thing is to be sure the book has a lot of pages and looks expensive. Be sure also that it has a hard cover.

As a tentative guide, here—all in fun—are a few books one might send to people well-known in the news.

"The Hour of Giving"—Jack Benny.
"Up the Down Staircase"—Leo Durocher.
"At Play in the Fields of the Lord"—Billy Graham.

"Yes I Can"—Richard M. Nixon.
"The Source"—Lyndon B. Johnson.

"The Man with the Golden Gun"—Robert S. McNamara.
"World Without Sun"—any alum landlord.

"Lord of the Flies"—your friendly neighborhood exterminator.
"Never Call Retreat"—Norman Thomas.

"Manchild in the Promised Land"—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.
"Favor the Runner"—Adam Clayton Powell.

"A Soldier Speaks"—any trooper in Viet Nam.
"All Things Considered"—Harold E. Stassen.

"The Ambassador"—Bob Hope.
"The Light of the Past"—Barry Goldwater.

"Girl on the Run"—Lady Bird.
"Company's Coming!"—Ho Chi Minh.

"An Odor of Sanctity"—Charles de Gaulle.
"2,000 Insults for All Occasions"—comedian Jack E. Leonard.

"The Available Man"—Hubert H. Humphrey.
"O Strange New World"—Dean Rusk.
"Hope for Our Times"—buy this one for yourself.

building inspector had estimated.

Asked why home builders were issued permits without plans and specifications, the building inspector, L. W. Dickmann, indicated that.

In many cases experience indicates, there were no plans available and if there were the builder would generally deviate from this plan.

The building inspector checks building projects to insure that plumbing, wiring and safety factors are met.

A quick drive around the city reveals that some ten major renovations and alterations took place at business establishments during the year and none were issued permits.

Ironically the city itself carried out a major renovation project on Convention Hall in Liberty Park during the year (1964) without a permit, and also remodeled City Hall without a permit, the files reveal.

The ordinance states "The provisions of this code shall apply with equal force to buildings, both municipal, school and private."

Exactly how much money the city may have failed to obtain in the issuance of building permits cannot be estimated. It was noted that the highest priced home built in Sedalia in the period in question was estimated at $24,000 by the builder who submitted no plans and specification in contradiction to the City Ordinance.

The lowest priced new home was listed as costing $2,000; a few at $5,000 and $6,000; five at $7,000; five at $8,000; five at $9,000; five at $9,500; ten at $10,000; eight at $11,000; five at $12,000; three at $15,000; one at $17,000; one at $19,000; one at $20,000 and one at $22,000. There were some in between figures listed here.

Whether or not the city would have a recourse of going back to those home builders who have sold say a "$10,000 home" for $20,000, for example, and collecting the difference on what the builder paid for his permit, and what he sold the home for, less cost of land, is a question of the city's legal advisor would have to answer.

The same would probably apply to those businesses that have made renovations or moves of buildings without the permits prescribed in the City Ordinance.

City Engineer Cunningham was given supervisory control of the departments of building inspector and plumbing inspector at the Dec. 8, 1964 session of City Council, following a recommendation by the Sewer Bonds Steering Committee.

Significant in council's action is the fact that the city engineer's supervision of building, plumbing and sewer permits may prevent the possibility of a condition in which a building being partially constructed, legally, may later be halted for lack of a sewer permit.

Fire Claims 9 Children, Three Adults

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A music classroom, gay with holiday song, became a death trap for nine children and three adults Monday night as a sudden flash of fire struck a Jewish community center in this New York suburb.

The children ranged in age from 7 to 11 and included three sets of brothers and sisters. Firemen said the victims apparently fell dead from smoke and fumes.

At least nine persons were injured, but only two were still reported hospitalized today.

One of the adult victims was Lucille Sacks, who had come to pick up her daughter, Sandra, after her music lessons.

Witnesses told police that Mrs. Sacks brought her child to safety but died after she re-entered the building, apparently trying to save her neighbors' children.

"Whenever they find Mrs. Sacks, they'll find my children," said Mrs. Isaku Konoshima, a neighbor and close friend of Mrs. Sacks in a nearby cooperative apartment house known as Sunset Green.

Later, police said the bodies of Mrs. Sacks, Richard Konoshima, 10, and his sister Kimiko, 7, were found huddled together in the classroom on the top floor of the four-story brick structure.

At Sunset Green, tearful neighbors ripped a Santa Claus figure from the front of the building. From the lobby, they removed a menorah, the candelabrum symbolic of Chanukah, the Jewish festival of lights.

It was the third night of Chanukah when the fire broke out in the building which serves both Jewish and non-Jewish citizens as a social and cultural center.

Fire Chief Andrew Gerloch said it started in an auditorium on the second floor. The auditorium was being renovated and workmen had left about an hour before the fire broke out.

"We haven't any idea what caused it," he said. "We are investigating."

Nuns from St. Joseph's Hospital across the street joined firemen in rescue efforts.

"They came right over here and even attempted to go up in the building while it was burning," Gerloch related.

Hugh Sinott, 27, a passerby, led more than 20 children from the first two floors.

Sinott, a sanitation worker and a parttime private security guard, said: "I tried to work my way up to the third floor and I got about halfway up and I couldn't go any farther because of the smoke," he said. "By that time, I was crawling on my hands and knees."

Many of the trapped children huddled coatless on top-floor ledges in 30-degree weather and waited for firemen to rescue them.

Ray Cohen, at work in an auto shop down the street, said they appeared calm.

"Some of them came out of a window and walked four feet along a ledge to where the aerial ladder was," he said.

Police Chief William F. Polson said he believed the fire was the worst in the history of the community. Yonkers, with a population of 200,000 is just north of New York.

The community center building, erected 37 years ago, is near the Yonkers business center. The children had arrived there after school at 3:30 p. m. They were taking classes in Hebrew, gym, swimming and music.

Fires In City

A 1956 Chevrolet, owned by Dave Smith, 212 West Ave., backed fire through the carburetor at 9:56 p. m. Monday necessitating a run by firemen. There was slight damage and the fire was out on arrival of trucks.

Magistrate Court

Ralph Eugene Lewis, 35, waived a preliminary hearing on a charge of stealing property valued at over $50 in Magistrate Court Monday morning and was bound over for trial in Circuit Court.

Lewis, who Sedalia police said gave no permanent address, is being held in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond. He is charged with taking a portable television set from the room of Ray Thornton, 300 West Pettis, on Dec. 14. Police say he sold the set.

The case of Dennis Dale Johnson

18, California, Mo., charged with tampering with a motor vehicle, has been set for preliminary hearing in Magistrate Court on Jan. 4, according to Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz.

Free on $1,000 bail, the Johnson youth is charged in connection with the theft of a tire and wheel from a stationwagon owned by Terry Lynn, 915 South Lamine, in late November.

Police Reports

A man who pleaded guilty in Police Court Monday to a charge of vagrancy was handed a suspended 10-day jail sentence on condition that he leave town.

Police took Raymond Quillilin, Ogden, Utah, out of town to the south, but at 7:30 p. m. Monday night received a report from the 100 block of West Sixth that a man was walking around the neighborhood acting strangely. Officers re-arrested Quillilin and held him overnight in the city jail.

Quillilin was taken out of town again Tuesday morning, police said.

Police were called at 1:20 a. m. Tuesday to investigate a report that material was being carried away from an apartment building under construction at 10th and State Fair Blvd.

Police Officers Clyde Nicewarner and George Dix disconnected wires on a truck parked at the Shell Service Station on West 50 about 1:35 a. m. Tuesday to silence the vehicle's horn. The horn had started blowing from an electrical short.

Three chrome air cleaners were reported stolen from a 1960 auto late Monday night at the Mike O'Connor agency lot, 1300 South Limit. The loss was estimated at $25.

Police Court

Christine S. Ratje, 722 East 10th, charged with failure to yield right of way in connection with an accident, pleaded innocent and after a hearing the case was dismissed.

William K. Walker, Kansas City, charged with driving while intoxicated, forfeited a $75 bond.

Billy Ray Klein, Florence, charged with running a red light, forfeited a $5 bond.

Circuit Court

James E. Steele was granted a divorce from Anna Ruth Steele in Circuit Court Monday. The court also restored the maiden name of the defendant, Anna Ruth Harms. William F. Brown was attorney for the plaintiff.

A traffic case pending against Melvin Leroy Kugler, Cross Timbers, was returned to the jurisdiction of Magistrate Court Monday after a defense application for change of venue to Circuit Court was withdrawn in the higher court.

Kugler, 22, was charged with failure to yield right of way in connection with a two-car collision on March 12, 1965, at the intersection of Routes 127 and Y west of Sedalia. The crash injured four, including Kugler himself, and claimed the life of Mrs. Loritta Shull, 53, Kansas City, who was a passenger in the other car involved.

A lawsuit heard Dec. 10 in Magistrate Court was transferred to Circuit Court Tuesday on appeal by the plaintiff in the case.

Danny Kabler, Hughesville, a minor acting through his next friend, May Todd, names the Thompson-Greer Motor Company as defendant in the suit to recover money. He seeks a total of $547, which he alleges represents trade-in allowance, a cash payment and license fees involved in a motor vehicle transaction Aug. 26 of this year. Kabler contends he suffered the loss when the firm

Push Wearily To Close Lid On UN Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates pushed wearily to close the lid tonight on a General Assembly that has plowed through two years of accumulated business and broken a few precedents.

Assembly President Amintore Fanfani was expected to gavel the grueling session to a close late tonight or in the early morning hours, depending on the volume of windup oratory.

It will mean the end of an assembly that had to take time out from current business to clean up financial and house-keeping items untouched during last year's session paralyzed by the voting deadlock over peace-keeping finances.

In the past three months, the delegates also were host to such figures as Pope Paul VI, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, Austrian Chancellor Josef Klaus and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan.

Cutting in on the work schedule of key delegates were Security Council debates on the strife in Cyprus, the independence declaration of Rhodesia's white minority government, the India-Pakistan conflict and the situation in Portugal's African territories.

The assembly session saw Red China's boosters make the strongest showing yet in their 15-year struggle to capture the Chinese seat for Peking.

It also saw the big Asian-African group maneuver itself into the power role it has been seeking since 1955, when new Asian and African states began flocking into the organization.

Brushing aside U.S. objections, the Asian-African Monday night rammed through the 117-nation assembly a proposal which in effect junked the long-standing rule that important issues require a two-thirds majority for approval.

Despite warnings from U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that a dangerous precedent would be set, the assembly decided that a resolution before it calling for elimination of colonialism required only a simple majority for approval.

Western diplomats were plainly disturbed at the move. They predicted it might be applied successfully to such questions as the seating of China and even disarmament.

The Asian-African group, which now numbers 61 nations, can now or break any question before the assembly under the simple majority rule if it doesn't break ranks.

The United States set a few precedents of its own. In its first U.N. boycott, the U.S. delegation walked out on Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa as he was assailing U.S. foreign policy in the general debate.

failed to deliver title to a 1964 truck.

Judge Frank Armstrong, however, ruled in favor of the defendant motor company in Magistrate Court. O. E. Brown is attorney for Kabler.

Evidence was heard Monday afternoon in Circuit Court on behalf of the plaintiff and two defendants in a lawsuit brought by the State Farm Mutual auto insurance company seeking a declaratory judgment to determine which of two victims of a pickup truck crash June 15, 1963, was driving the vehicle.

Judge Frank Hayes then granted the defendants until Dec. 30 to file briefs in the case.

State Farm brought the suit in April this year after widows of both victims of the crash on a rainy morning near the Morgan-Benton County line on Highway 52 had filed damage suits alleging the other's husband was the driver of the fatal vehicle. Killed in the accident on the Haw Creek Bridge were John Orvil Hammond and Bobby Joe Lane, both employees of the Independent Plumbing Co. here.

Defendants in the suit are Ethel Hammond, Hammond's widow; Beverly Ann Lane, Lane's widow and guardian of their children; Harry Wimer, owner of the Independent Plumbing Co. truck involved; and Lloyd Farris, administrator of the Hammond estate.

cation was retroactive to Dec. 1, 1965.

Resignation of George E. Fleetwood as a member of the police department was read to the Council, effective Dec. 15. The resignation was accepted.

The Council passed a companion traffic ordinance to one passed two weeks ago calling for tail lights on motor vehicles such as automobiles, trucks, and motorcycles. The ordinance passed Monday night calls for two white lights on the front of any motor vehicle except motorcycles and one white light on the front of that machine unless a sidecar is attached and a white light shall be on the front of it. The ordinance pointed out, "The lights must be in working order" and also established fines to be assessed for violators.

Bids on the proposed animal shelter were opened by the Council. There was a short confusion over the letter of the architects, Sammon and Buller, who apparently gave an estimate of $1,260 for the building. Members of the Council agreed there must have been a typographical error.

Paul Graham bid $9,344 to be completed in 120 calendar days; Tempel-Carlson Co., bid $9,739 to be completed, with no dates given; Charles L. Patterson Jr., $8,755 and 125 days; Dean Construction Co., $7,994.50 in 90 days; Potts Construction Co., $9,600, 125 days; Yarboro Construction Co., $7,260 and 70 days. The bids were referred to the Buildings and Grounds Committee to check with the architects and to accept the lowest and best bid. The motion was made by Councilman Bob Wells who said, "This old dog pound is the most disgraceful place in Sedalia, and something has got to be done and done quickly."

The Council approved the payments of $47,990.80 in interest coupons on the Public Sewer Bonds.

The Council also approved the report of Planning and Zoning Committee in rezoning property east of Limit, between Tenth and 11th from R-1 to C-3. The action is to square off the property with other property which had been previously rezoned. It calls for 150 feet additional to the east of the present property. An ordinance was ordered drawn.

Mayor L. L. Studer welcomed students from Smith-Cotton High School who attended the meeting and told them he hoped the discussions were helpful and educational.

The Council authorized the following department bills paid: General and Administrative $151.57; Airport $3,330.23; Police $413.05; Fire $123.62; Sewer and Sanitation $1,056.49; Street and Alley $20,899.07; Public Buildings and Grounds $380.78; Gas, Lights and Parking $120.13; a total of $26,474.94.

Councilman Floyd Priddy, Chairman of Finance and Taxes, remarked the city disbursements are running right along with the budget. He said he was confident the various departments would be able to adjust their expenditures to come within their budgets for the present outlook.

Aubrey Case gave the invocation and led in group singing.

The Altrusa Club was holding its regular luncheon meeting in the mezzanine room of the hotel and joined Rotary for the program.

Claim Viet Peace Feelers Part of Political Campaign

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Recent Vietnamese Communist propaganda suggests the possibility that "peace feelers" are part of a psychological campaign to erode American and world public support of U.S. policy, in preparation for an upsurge of political warfare in South Viet Nam.

The Viet Cong's Liberation Radio couples a "we-can't-lose" propaganda campaign in South Viet Nam with highly exaggerated descriptions of various protest demonstrations around the world, and particularly in the United States.

In America, these broadcasts say, protests have risen to unprecedented intensity and have become "the most violent struggle in U.S. history," which has left the Johnson administration "extremely embarrassed and fearful."

Hints from North Viet Nam thus may have little to do with any real intention to negotiate on terms acceptable to the United States. Rather these "feelers" may be intended to add to the Johnson administration's troubles by placing it in the position of rejecting peace overtures.

This hypothesis becomes credible against the background of recent Viet Cong propaganda. This indicates Communist agents now can be expected to mount strong efforts to bring the war to the cities of South Viet Nam by means of political attack.

This would have a double purpose: first, to attack the Viet Cong's enemy from the rear and to make the U.S. presence politically untenable, and second, to persuade public opinion in America and elsewhere that the anti-Communist war effort has little South Vietnamese support.

Americans in Saigon often have expressed the opinion that a clear military decision is unlikely but that the war might be lost politically. The Communists indicate that they aim to step up their political efforts and coordinate them with military activities.

The Liberation Radio propaganda says the time is near in South Viet Nam for a "three struggle movement" — armed, political and recruiting — in the South, to be "closely coordinated and create a continual offensive against the enemy on three sides so that he is attacked everywhere and can be led to collapse rapidly."

This broadcast added: "We are confident that the current situation practically offers us a very favorable opportunity to step up further our armed and political struggles, as well as military recruitment. These three movements must be carried out simultaneously."

Viet Cong propaganda claims control of four-fifths of South Viet Nam's territory with 10 million of the 14 million population. It concedes the Saigon government's control of the larger cities, so its emphasis there is on political attack.

In Saigon and other cities, say broadcast instructions, the movement is to reach a higher level now, concentrating on exploiting every evidence of public discontent. The broadcasts call for agitation for strikes on wages, cost of living, housing and other issues, and a movement "particularly to oppose conscription by every means possible, such as holding discussions among youths and high school and college students."

They add: "Although the political struggle movement has developed and achieved a number of successes, compared to the armed struggle movement it has not yet developed proportionally. If there is close coordination between military victories and the political and military has not yet developed proportionally."

The Viet Cong has many agents in South Viet Nam's cities. These now presumably are under orders to join with and encourage every discontented element.

Exploiting the conscription issue would not be difficult. The Saigon regime already has trouble with it. Over the past two years there have been about 160,000 desertions from the ranks of the new recruits, although desertion in Viet Nam cannot be viewed in the same light as desertion in a Western sense. In many cases the recruits just wander off to visit their families. Some straggle back and are forgiven.

The Liberation Front, however, now is advising young men who don't want to go to war to arm themselves and shoot it out with those who try to draft them.

All in all, a picture of Communist strategy emerges aimed MOONLIGHTING CHAPLAINS—The heavy-duty truck is as much a tool of their trade as Bibles and pulpits for Capt. Rex Morgan of Chicago, Ill., and Maj. Dean C. Hofstad of Emmetsburg, Iowa. Air Force chaplains at Cam Ranh Bay in South Viet Nam, the two also drive trucks and supervise construction projects at the base.

at making things hot for the Saigon regime and the Americans in Viet Nam while at the same time attempting to create fear, confusion and discord in the United States.

Sandra Ends Contract Era For Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Something of a milestone in Hollywood history passed entirely without notice recently. Sandra Dee ended her exclusive contract with Universal.

What's so historical about that? Just this: Sandra Dee was the last big-name movie star to remain under contract to a major studio. When her period of servitude ended, it marked the complete finish of the era of stars as contract players.

Twenty years ago, all but a handful of the major film stars were bound exclusively to studios. Today, not one is.

If Sandra seemed impressed by her place in history, it wasn't noticeable. She was much more concerned with preparing for Christmas and her young son's birthday, as well as her departure this week for England, where she will film her first movie as an independent, "Kaleidoscope."

Her long-range concern is building a career for herself as a grownup actress. I detected a trace of bitterness about her departure from the home lot.

"I thought they were my friends," she remarked, speaking of her Universal bosses. "But I found out on the last picture ('A Man Could Get Killed') that I was simply a piece of property to them. I begged them not to make me do the picture. But they insisted."

"So I spent a miserable four months in Lisbon, little fishing villages and in Rome, making a picture that should have taken eight weeks. We had two changes of directors, and I ended up playing 'Come September' all over again."

"Come September" was the film on which she met her husband, singer Bobby Darin. She played a wide-eyed and vulnerable teen-ager, and that's just what she is trying to get away from now.

"I could never do it at Universal," she commented. "They just can't think of me as grown-up."

Missouri IFYE's Available For Talks

Four International Farm
Youth Exchange Delegates from Missouri are just returning from a seven month trip abroad under the sponsorship of 4-H.

As these four delegates arrive back in the United States, they will become available to give their experiences while in their talks, illustrated by slides, of their experiences while in their host countries. The returnees are Marilyn Wade from Greene County, who has been in England-Wales; Lynn Hitchings of Iron County was in Scotland;
Orville Vorhis from Callaway
County, has been in Germany, and Norma Hunsicker of Harrison County who has been in Israel.

Living and working with people in other countries in order to better understand their problems is one of the prime objectives of the International Farm Youth Exchange Program and that is exactly what these four young people did during their stay in their host countries. They lived and worked closely with many families. As these four IFYE's asked questions of their host families and of themselves, they developed a prospective of their homeland as well as building an understanding with people in other lands.

Our returning delegates report that IFYE is much more than a six or seven month trip. It is an educational experience and an on-the-job training with people. They learn to put aside preconceived notions as they adapt to new and changing conditions.
Through careful evaluation they become aware of the reasons for similarities and differences between cultures. This becomes a two way experience as their hosts develop a better understanding of the United States.

IFYE is not a new thing in Missouri, in the nation, or in the world. It was established in 1948 and Missouri started in the program in 1949. Since that time Missouri 4-H members have sent fifty-eight of their membership as delegates to thirty countries. In return, Missouri has received 109 exchang-ees from forty-two countries who have lived with 260 host families here in the state of Missouri.

When the IFYE returns home such as these four, he starts another phase of his experience.
The delegates share their observations, experiences, and ideas with others. They have a challenging responsibility to analyze their visit and to accurately communicate this to others. We want them to tell the IFYE story. Talks illustrated by colored slides are given to groups in their own county and surrounding counties. These four young people may be used in meetings by making contact with them through their University Extension Centers in their home counties.

Nebraska Heads For Best Cage Season

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Resurgent Nebraska, headed for its best basketball season in several years, made it six out of seven with a 71-67 victory over Stanford at Lincoln Monday night as Big Eight teams win three of five intersectional games.

Colorado pulled out a 77-73 victory in three overtimes at Arizona for its fifth victory in eight games. Oklahoma ripped California 94-72 with surprising ease at Norman, led by Don Sidle's 27 points and 15 rebounds.

Missouri was beaten 67-60 by Northwestern in the first round

Wichita No Longer Undeclared

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wichita's eighth-ranked Shockers were dumped from the unbeaten ranks by potent Southern Illinois at Carbondale Monday night in their first game away from the Wichita Roundhouse.

Once-beaten SIU, ranked No. 3 in the national small college poll, controlled the backboards 68-37 and raced to a surprising 89-68 victory. The Salukis broke a 47-47 tie with a 19-1 spurt.

The other Missouri Valley Conference team in action Monday night, North Texas, was shot down by Oklahoma City's potent run-and-gun club, 96-90, at Denton. Willie Davis had 24 points and 26 rebounds for NTS, but OCU had too many guns with Gary Gray getting 30, James Ware 27 and Charley Hunter, 21. OCU stands 6-1, SIU 6-1, Wichita 4-1 and NTS 5-3.

The defeats left the Valley with a 38-13 won-lost record against outside teams, thanks to a 31-3 bulge at home compared to 7-10 on the road. Fifth-ranked Bradley, with two road victories in an 8-0 record, is host to Montana tonight at Peoria. Tulsa plays at Utah State in the other Valley game.

Wichita's Jamie Thompson scored 21 points in a losing effort and held on to the Valley scoring lead with a 24.6 average. Joe Allen of Bradley is next at 19.2, Bob Netolicky of Drake is third at 19.0.

Louisville's Westley Unsel had an 18-point average for fourth, followed by Rich Parks of St. Louis at 16.8, Melvin Reed of Wichita at 16.6, Don Rolfe of Cincinnati at 16.1 and Dale Abshire of North Texas with 15.6.

In rebounding, Unsel is far in front with 20.7 grabs a game. Parks has a 13.2 average, Netolicky 12.0 and Eugene Moore of St. Louis 10.5.

In field goal shooting, it's Thompson 68.4, Reed 59.6, Allen 57.2, Abshire 55.5 and Netolicky 53.1, through Saturday's games. In free throw accuracy, Thompson also leads with an 85.4 mark with Eddie Jackson of Bradley second with 79.3, Ernie Thompson of Bradley third on 76.0, including Monday's games.

The Tigers meet Memphis State, loser to Texas, for third place tonight. Abilene Christian is at Oklahoma State in the only other game involving a Big Eight team.

Iowa State lost 87-70 at Ohio State despite Al Koch's 34 points.

The winning night gave the Big Eight a 27-27 season won-lost record outside the league, thanks to a 19-9 mark at home. Sophomore Tom Baack hit 22 points for Nebraska and the Huskers drew 7,600 fans, their largest crowd of the season. Nebraska is averaging 5,507 in attendance, best in at least 15 years; and the Big Eight has a 6,035 average for 28 home games third best in history.

K-State with 10,450 a game and Kansas with a 10,433 average are in a close race for the attendance lead with Iowa State drawing a capacity 7,000 each game. The Iowa State average is the best in at least 15 years. The Kansas figure is best since Wilt Chamberlain's last year—1958.

The Big Eight record of 6,911 was set in 1957, Chamberlain's first year, with 1958 second best at 6,058.

Chuck Gardner led Colorado with 24 points against Arizona—three in the third overtime—and Bob Bauers had 19. It was 59-59 after regulation time.

Jack Adams Will Get Honors For His Services To Hockey

NEW YORK (AP) — Jolly Jack Adams, builder of one of the National Hockey League's most powerful dynasties during his 35 years with the Detroit Red Wings, will be honored for long and meritorious service to hockey in the United States.

Today, Adams was named the first annual winner of the Lester Patrick Memorial Trophy. Patrick was a general manager and coach of the New York Rangers for many years.

Adams, now a member of hockey's Hall of Fame, joined the Detroit organization as general manager and coach in 1927.

With such Adams-developed stars as Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay, Sid Abel and Terry Sawchuk playing leading roles, Detroit captured an unprecedented seven consecutive regular season titles through 1954-55.

The award will be presented to Adams at a dinner in New York next month.

Russians Defeated

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — The Canadian national hockey team whipped the Russian nationals 6-1 Monday night in an exhibition game. The victory was Canada's first in eight games played between Russian and Canadian national teams.

At least four teams in the PBCAA conference have concluded action for the 1965 portion of the current basketball season, but the Sacred Heart Gremlins and Northwest Mustangs, among other teams in the area, have at least one more game to go.

The Gremlins, who lost a real heartbreaker to Marshall Mercy (46-45) Friday night, will travel to Bunceton to give the Dragons a chance to get even for the early-season whipping Sacred Heart gave them. That will close the 1965 season for the Gremlins.

Northwest also ends things for this year by going to Prairie Home Tuesday for a non-conference battle. The Mustangs take a 9-1 record into the game after ousting Corder 82-34 last Friday.

Smith-Cotton's Tigers, after a gruelling twin-bill over the weekend, will play again this Tuesday, in Sedalia, to open their CMC conference season with a game against Columbia, (6-2). Columbia, never a weak school in any sport, may give the Bengals a bit of stiff competition, but Smith-Cotton (4-4 for the season) may have an advantage in the fact that they will play on their home court.

The Sweet Springs Greyhounds play their last game of 1965 against St. Paul's of Concordia this Tuesday. Sweet Springs is one of the top teams in the area and takes a 7-5 record into the contest.

Other area teams seeing action this Tuesday include LaSalle of Alma at Corder, California's Pintos at Jefferson City Helias and Marshall at Carrollton.

The PBCAA schools that will be idle Tuesday are Smithton, Green Ridge, Warsaw and Lincoln. Other top teams in the area not scheduled to play again this year are Calhoun and Stover.

Greyhounds Drop Game To Visitors

St. Paul's of Concordia defeated the Sweet Springs Greyhounds 68-53 at Sweet Springs Monday night — the first time the Concordia school has been able to claim that distinction since the schools have been playing each other.

The Greyhounds, one of the most competitive teams in the Democrat-Capital trade area, are still feeling the loss of Dewey Sims. Nevertheless, the 'Hounds put up a stiff fight before seeing their season record set at 7-1. St. Paul's is 7-1 in over-all play.

St. Paul's eked out a meager one-point margin in the first quarter of play, but Sweet Springs came back with 20 points in the second quarter to turn that early deficit to a two-point advantage.

St. Paul's, however, outscored Sweet Springs in both the second and third quarters of play to ice the victory.

Sweet Springs' Bob Brown, who ranks with such outstanding area cage stars as Duane Brandsgaard of Lincoln and Bob Barnes of Warsaw, scored 18 points and raked in 31 rebounds before fouling out for four minutes left in the game.

Top individual performance for St. Paul's was turned in by Smith, who scored 27 points on 12 field goals and three charity tosses.

In the B-game, St. Paul's again defeated the Greyhounds, this time 39-31. Wallenburg was high for the winners with ten while Augur paced Sweet Springs with eight.

Sweet Springs concluded action for this portion of the season Monday night, and is next set to play St. Paul's, Jan. 3, at Missouri Valley College.

Score by quarters:

St. Paul's 16 17 17 18—68
Sweet Springs 15 20 6 12—53

Individual scoring: St. Paul's — Roschke, 1-0-2; Stein, 5-3-13; Baacke, 6-2-14; Maynard, 1-0-2; Collmeyer, 1-3-5; Smith, 12-3-27; Mueller, 2-1-5.

Sweet Springs — Warren Sims, 5-2-12; Bob Brown, 8-2-18; Greg Fischer, 5-2-12; Rick Remmon, 3-2-8; Russ Scott, 0-1-1; Rich Howard, 1-0-2.

Jim Brown, 7 Teammates On East Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fullback Jim Brown and seven of his Cleveland teammates were selected today for the East team which meets the National Football League's Western squad in the annual Pro Bowl Game here Jan. 16.

The 34-man squad was announced by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and the game's local co-directors, Glenn Davis and Dave Brandman.

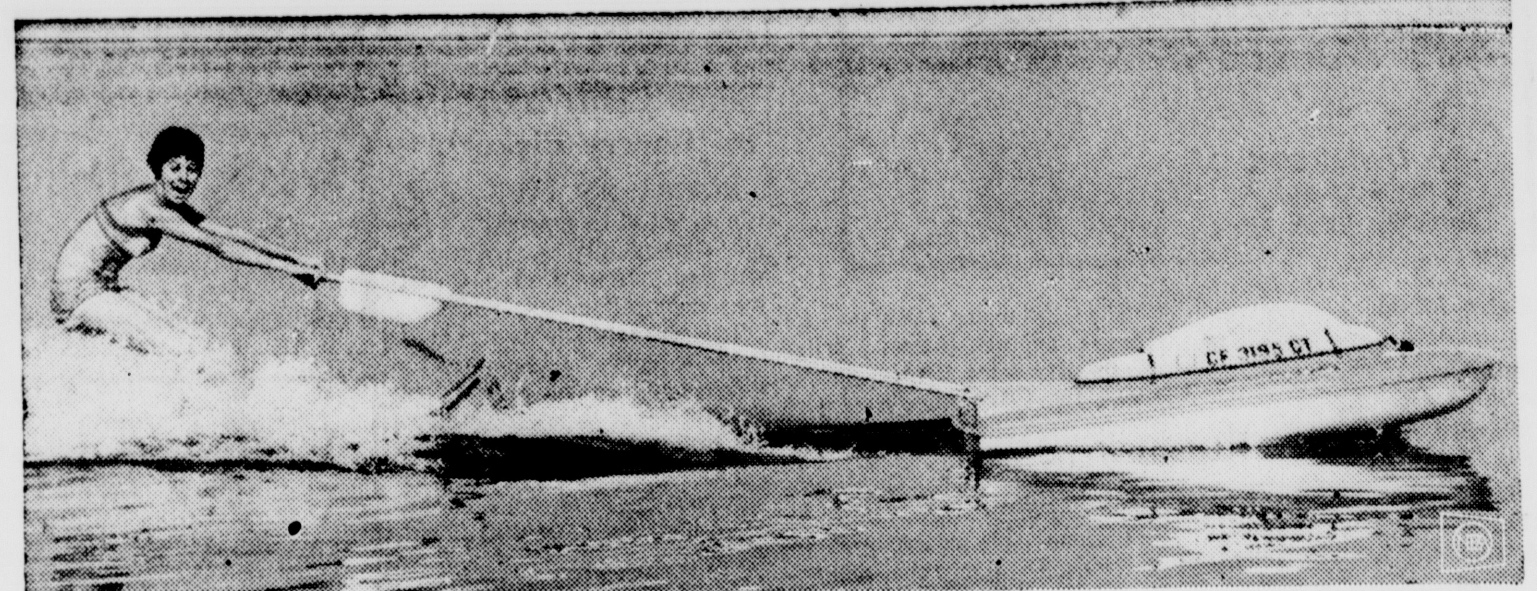

NFL coaches select the players.

Quarterback Frank Ryan, Brown, Dick Schafrath, John Wooten, Gene Hickerson, Gary Collins, Paul Wiggins and Jim Houston were the Clevelanders named.

Norman Sneed of the Philadelphia Eagles was the other quarterback selected.

Only two rookies made the squad, flanker Bob Hayes of Dallas and the New York Giants' fullback, Tucker Fredrickson.

Three rookies, halfback Gale Sayers and linebacker Dick Butkus of Chicago and fullback Ken Willard of San Francisco, were named on the Western team, announced Monday.

AUTOMATION—Has it hit water skiing, too, or is it called progress? Nevertheless, Mary Ann Southard, "Miss Salton Season," gives it the look-ma-no-driver treatment as she whizzes along the water at Santa Ana, Calif. Miss Southard is being pulled by the new "Ski-Craft." A starter and throttle incorporated in the hand grip attached to the craft allow her to control the speed and direction. The craft's 24-horsepower motor can pull an average-size water skier 30 to 35 miles per hour and makes skiing a self-contained sport.

Smithton Evens Its League Mark

The Smithton Tigers evened their PBCAA conference record at 1-1 while the Green Ridge Tigers became more deeply entrenched in the cellar position after Smithton beat Green Ridge 104-47 at Green Ridge in league play Monday night.

The game, a make-up contest for Smithton, got underway with that school scoring 19 points while holding Green Ridge to eight in the first quarter.

Then successive performances in the last three quarters of 27, 23 and 30 points pushed Smithton to victory. The best Green Ridge rally of the contest came in the fourth quarter when the Tigers scored 20 points.

For the season, Smithton is now 4-6 and Green Ridge 0-11. Mickey Selken paced the Smithton attack with 20 points while George Reed and Steve Ray were high for Green Ridge with nine each.

In the B-game, Smithton defeated Green Ridge 79-46 on Thomas' 19 points. Tops for Green Ridge was Larry Hancock with 13.

Green Ridge came closest to victory Monday night in the volleyball game, but Smithton again upset the apple cart, this time 26-23. Patty Binder was high for the losers with eight while Suduth topped Smithton with seven.

Mickey Mantle Named

Hutch Award Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle has been named winner of the first Hutch Award, it was announced today.

The voting, by major league broadcasters and baseball writers, was based on "the player who best exemplifies the fighting spirit and burning desire of the late Fred Hutchinson."

Hutchinson, former American League pitching star and manager of the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds, died of cancer Nov. 12, 1964.

Mantle will receive his trophy at the annual dinner of the New York Baseball Writers chapter next Jan. 30.

GROVE, Okla. (AP) — One-time Olympic high jumper Tom Poor collapsed at the Grand Lake Sports Center near here Monday. The 62-year-old former University of Kansas track star was pronounced dead on arrival at a Grove hospital.

Poor, who took fourth in the 1924 Paris Olympics, resigned last April as executive secretary of the Grand Lake Association, a post he had held for 10 years.

First Time In 3 Years

UCLA Knocked Out Of Top Spot; Two Others Follow

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA's defending national champions, victims of the latest shuffle in college basketball's power struggle, can expect company before the next accounting.

No sooner had the weekly ratings been adjusted Monday night, with Duke clinging to the

No. 1 spot and UCLA off the roll for the first time in three years, than pot shots knocked off two more members of the Top Ten.

Houston, paced by sophomore Elvin Hayes, surprised Providence, No. 7 in The Associated Press poll, 102-89 while Southern Illinois went on a 24-1 spurt in the second half and startled eighth-ranked Wichita 89-68.

There'll be at least one more loser among the elite teams after tonight's action. The top-ranked Blue Devils meet No. 3 Michigan at Detroit and second-ranked St. Joseph's of Philadelphia has a tough road assignment at Brigham Young.

No. 6 Minnesota, only other Top Ten club scheduled Monday night, outlasted scrappy Detroit 92-88 behind a 38-point spree by Archie Clark for its fifth victory without a loss.

Fourth-ranked Vanderbilt entertains California Santa Barbara and Montana visits No. 5 Bradley tonight in other games involving the top clubs.

Providence, which had won its first five starts, couldn't cope with Houston's height advantage on the Cougars' court. The 6-foot-9 Hayes did the heaviest damage with 33 points and led a 20-8 spurt early in the second half that shot Houston ahead to stay 72-63. The Cougars out-rebounded Providence 22-4 during the decisive rally.

Jim Walker led the Friars with 30 points, hitting on 10 of 15 shots from the floor.

Bills Make Sad Showing On Paper

NEW YORK (AP) — There's no question why the San Diego Chargers are in the American Football League championship game Sunday but statistically there may be some wondering about the Buffalo Bills.

While the Western Division champion Chargers finished first in all six offensive and defensive statistical categories, the Eastern champion Bills finished above sixth place only in rushing defense.

The Bills, according to league statistics released today, were eighth in passing, sixth in rushing, seventh in total offense, eighth in pass defense, second in rushing defense and sixth in total defense.

San Diego gained 3,103 yards passing to 2,461 for Buffalo, rushed for 1,998 in comparison to Buffalo's 1,288 and over-all gained 5,101 yards to 3,749 for Buffalo.

Defensively, the Chargers allowed a low of 2,182 yards passing to 3,170 for the Bills, gave up 1,094 yards rushing to 1,114 for the Bills and over-all allowed 3,276 yards to 4,284 for the Bills.

At Carbondale, Ill., a southern Illinois turned a 47-42 deficit into a commanding 66-48 bulge by reeling off 13 and 11 points in succession around a single free throw by Wichita. Boyd O'Neal and Clarence Smith each scored six points and George McNeil four in the SIU spurt.

O'Neal topped Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 3 small-college team, with 22 points and 15 rebounds. The Shockers, who were unbeaten in four previous games, lost the battle of the boards 68-37.

Minnesota's Clark, taking over the scoring slack for Lou Hudson, who sat out the game with an injured hand, shot 15 for 25 from the field as the Gophers built a 17-point margin with four minutes to go and held on. Doris Murray of Detroit tied the school record with 44 points and hauled in 34 rebounds, seven more than the Minnesota team.

Eddie Biedenbach poured in 15 points in the first half — including a run of nine straight — as North Carolina State rolled to a 15-point early lead and buried Georgia Tech 93-69 for a 4-1 season mark.

St. Bonaventure connected on 60 per cent of its shots while routing St. Joseph's of Indiana 122-76 for its fifth victory against a single loss and Nebraska boosted its record to 6-1 by edging Stanford 71-67.

Duke, which whipped UCLA proved its record to 6-1 with a come from behind victory over Virginia last Saturday, received 28 of 40 first-place votes in The AP poll of sportswriters and broadcasters. UCLA, which slipped to 3-3 when beaten by Cincinnati, fell out of the Top Ten after placing eighth a week ago.

The Top Ten, determined on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc., with first place votes in parentheses, won-lost records and total points:

1. Duke (28)	6	1	379
2. St. Joseph's, Pa. (9)	6	0	327
3. Michigan	4	1	274
4. Vanderbilt (3)	6	0	269
5. Bradley	8	0	183
6. Minnesota	4	0	144
7. Providence	5	0	140
8. Wichita	4	0	105
9. Iowa	7	0	98

Officials Again Evaluate Grid Coach Choices

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Still hoping to get a new football coach before Christmas, University of Oklahoma officials tackled the job today of evaluating a long list of applicants.

Most of those interviewed have been assistants since Texas Coach Darrell Royal and Vince Dooley of Georgia said they wouldn't leave their present spots.

Arkansas aide Jim MacKenzie Oregon State assistant Sam Boghosian and Gene Corroto, who has a 65-14-4 mark at Norman, Okla., High School after working as a college assistant at Kansas, Tulsa and Arkansas, were interviewed Monday.

Gomer Jones resigned the post Dec. 6, two days after the Sooners finished the season with a 3-7 record, worst in modern Oklahoma football history. He continues as athletic director.

Klansman Gets Sentence For Arms Violation

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., a young Ku Klux Klansman charged with conspiracy in the murder of civil rights worker Viola Liuzzo, goes to prison Jan. 4 to serve a year's sentence on a firearms violation conviction.

Wilkins, 22, was ordered Monday to begin serving the sentence after he was found guilty in U.S. District Court of violating probation provisions.

Wilkins pleaded guilty to the firearms charge in November 1964, after an indictment was returned by a federal grand jury in Birmingham Aug. 26, 1964, charging him with illegal possession of a sawed off shotgun.

U.S. District Judge Clarence W. Allgood suspended a one-year prison sentence and placed Wilkins on probation for two years.

Allgood ruled Monday that Wilkins had broken the probation on four counts.

Grabowski Won't Make Prediction

CHICAGO (AP) — Can a young athlete who was forward enough to break Red Grange's college rushing records beat out Jim Taylor or Paul Hornung for a starting berth in the Green Bay Packers' backfield in his first year in the National Football League?

That's what everyone was asking Jim Grabowski Monday after the Packers announced they had signed the University of Illinois fullback to a three-year contract.

Grabowski wouldn't predict whether he'll nudge Hornung or Taylor out of the starting lineup next year but Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said anything is possible.

"I think I'll learn a lot from them," Grabowski said of Taylor and Hornung. But, he added, "I'll do my best to break into the starting line-up."

"He's a real fine rushing back," said Lombardi, adding: "A good rushing back definitely can become a starter as a rookie in the National Football League."

Neither Lombardi nor Grabowski would reveal terms of the three-year contract, but scuttlebutt has it Grabowski will receive $50,000 a year plus a $100,000 bonus.

Lombardi was full of praise for the Packers' No. 1 draft pick.

"We're real happy to have him," he said.

Lombardi feels the Illini All-America has the left to right yardage in the tough NFL. He said he expects Grabowski to add another 10 pounds to his 215-pound frame.

Grabowski broke 16 rushing marks at Illinois, including four Big Ten records.

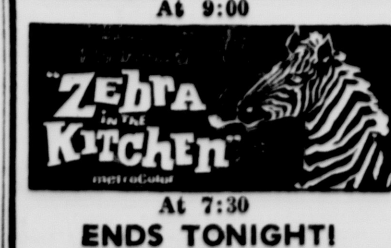

His conference records include most yards rushing in a season, 996; three-year career rushing total of 2,106 yards; three-year total yards, 2,878, and a single-game rushing record of 239 yards against Wisconsin as a junior. The last mark was two yards better than Grange's best performance, as a collegian at Illinois.

Ten Tons of Gifts For Viet Civilians

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The steamship President Grant sails out of the Golden Gate Christmas Eve with 10 tons of gifts for civilians in South Viet Nam. It will be the first of a number of such shipments.

The initial consignment was collected in the San Francisco east bay area and brought to the American President Lines ship by a Southern Pacific Railroad train.

Other consignments are being collected at Clarfield, Utah, by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other sponsors of the "People-to-people" goodwill plan.

Slash Half Of Military Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's slash of nearly half this year's military construction program foreshadows a new defense budget shorn of anything which cannot be justified by military necessity and the Viet Nam war.

McNamara signaled this Monday in saying that indefinite postponement of $620 million in construction of homes for service families, barracks and other like facilities is "symptomatic" of his approach to the new defense budget now being put together.

The Pentagon planned to announce today the list of deferred projects in 42 states, the District of Columbia and 18 overseas locations.

It also may announce another list of high-priority projects, totaling $685 million, which will go ahead in 36 states, the District, and 16 overseas sites.

Among the programs which may be put off because of the war-caused budget pinch are a start in production in the Nike X antimissile system and a proposed new atomic-powered aircraft carrier for the Navy.

Top officials believe there is no urgency to get under way in either of these projects. The Nike X could cost as much as $20 billion ultimately and the Navy carrier would come to several hundred million dollars in one lump sum.

Final budget decisions have not yet been made but there has been speculation that the new defense money request may top this year's $49 billion by as much as $10 billion.

At an unannounced news conference, McNamara declared that his department is eliminating or deferring everything that can possibly be sidetracked "without eating into the muscle" of U.S. armed might.

McNamara said that in addition to family housing and barracks the projects involved such facilities as additions to hospitals, bachelor officer quarters and modernization of training schools.

Wiped out were all 8,500 units of new housing for families of servicemen planned for this year. This accounted for $160 million of the $620 million being deferred.

The armed services have argued that improved family housing was one of the major

Winter Is Here

Caterpillar, Perch Reader Predict Run-of-Mill Year

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

If you want to know what winter holds—it comes tonight — just ask a caterpillar or a perch, look at the moon or consult the almanac. You'll get a different answer every time.

If caterpillars speak your language, it'll be a run-of-the-mill winter. The perches say it will be mild at first — so does the moon, although the rockets kind of get in the way.

But the fog-counters, volcano-readers and the almanacs predict a bitter time of it with more than enough snow to keep even the hardiest of skiers happy.

When winter comes schussing in tonight it's likely to find more pine needles than snow on the ground. But, those resorts where snow has fallen are packing them in.

In Miami, at resorts of a different sort, vacationers are hoping to get brown under the sun — while their winterbound neighbors turn green with envy and blue from the cold.

Winter comes officially at 8:41 p.m. (EST) today, hours after darkness will have fallen on the day of the year with the least amount of daylight. If it's any compensation, Venus will attain her greatest brilliance.

Ski lodges are going great in Colorado, New Mexico, upper New England and California — where some winters the resorts never open for lack of snow. In other places, the bare ground isn't luring many skiers.

In the weather predicting business there are as many ways of arriving at the wrong conclusion as there are snowflakes in a blizzard.

The Old Farmer's Almanac predicts 91 inches of snow for the winter season (starting Nov. 1), which is 26.6 inches above normal. The almanac also predicts temperatures will average 33.67 — 3.5 degrees below normal.

In the upstate New York hamlet of Charlton, George Casabonne, 79, known locally as Cousin George, says the winter will "not be too bad." Casabonne bases his predictions on moon signs and confesses to a little trouble reading them this year because of "those darned rocket shots and spunkies."

Mathon Kyrtis of Waukegan, Ill., reads the peregrinations of perch for his advance tips on the weather. He said a two-inch snowfall hasn't shaken his prediction of a green Christmas for the Midwest. "Whoever hears of a fish fibbing?" he asked.

He makes his predictions according to how deep the perch are running. Kyrtis says the fish are getting deeper and deeper and "that means it's going to turn cold about two weeks hence."

Louis Rubin of Richmond, Va., who has gained national fame for his long-range predictions based on volcanic eruptions, says this will be a colder than usual winter.

Down in Crab Orchard, Tenn., Helen Lane, correspondent for the Crossville Chronicle, makes her forecasts on the number of snows in Tennessee from the number of fogs in the Cumberland plateau area during August.

"If it snows for all the fogs," she writes, "we will have to tie a string to the coal pile in order to find it this winter. Indications of a rough winter are thick corn husks, low-hanging hornets nests, heavier than usual leaves on the tree. These low-hanging leaves are nature's way of providing protection for spring flowers."

Tubby Toms, outdoor writer for the Indianapolis News, predicts a normal "run-of-mill" winter. His clues include loose corn husks and an equal abundance of brown and black caterpillars. He said if there were more black ones that would mean a nasty winter ahead.

Johnson Back In Party Form For Holidays

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is back in his party form. He danced and chatted long after his guest of honor — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard — had departed from a White House state dinner.

Two of the chief executive's doctors — heart specialist Willis Hurst of Atlanta and assistant White House physician Capt. James M. Young — watched and approved the President's obvious good spirits as he entertained Monday night until 1:30 a.m.

Johnson, his wife, two daughters and about 200 guests marked the Christmas season in honor of Erhard with costumed University of Maryland madrigal singers, the American Light Opera Company carolers and opera star Robert Merrill singing yule songs in English and German.

The Marine Band concentrated on slow, romantic dance numbers and the usual Christmas selections.

Children of Armory Victims Get Toys

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — Two Michigan men brought a truckload of toys to Keokuk Monday for children of victims who were burned in a Thanksgiving eve explosion and fire that destroyed the National Guard Armory here.

The death toll stood a 21 Monday when two more of the critically injured died in Keokuk hospitals.

Gary Glazier and Laverne Lietzke of St. John, Mich., drove here with toys from a Lansing, Mich., toy manufacturers and $50 donated for the Swing-Ezy Disaster Benefit Fund. The money donation was arranged by Dick Kenyon, a square-dance caller from Lansing.

The explosion occurred while members of the Swing-Ezy Club were holding a square dance.

Soviets Sign Pact With North Viet Nam

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union signed agreements with Communist North Viet Nam today calling for undisclosed additional technical assistance and credits to the Hanoi government as well as an exchange of commodities between the two countries.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Soviet Deputy Premier Vladimir Novikov and North Vietnamese Deputy Premier Le Thanh Nghi participated in the ceremony at the Kremlin, but it gave no details of the agreements.

Communist Faces Prison For Anarchy

NEW YORK (AP) — William Epton, an admitted Communist convicted of urging Harlem rioters in 1964 to "smash" the government of New York, faces a maximum 12-year sentence for criminal anarchy.

Epton, leader of the Peking, leaning Harlem Progressive Labor Movement, will be sentenced Jan. 27 and must remain in jail until then. He also faces fines up to $6,000.

State Supreme Court Justice Arthur Markewich revoked Epton's $10,000 bail after the verdict was returned Monday saying the jury had classified him as "a dangerous man."

Epton, a Negro, was arrested on Aug. 5, 1964, in the aftermath of the bitter Harlem riots, when he organized a demonstration in defiance of a police ban.
